OUR COVER STORY FOR THIS MONTH

The Holy Trinity Serbian Orthodox Parish was founded in Regina in 1916. From its original location on McArA Street, the church was moved to its present site at Winnipeg Street and 11th Avenue in 1947. The setting, peculiar to the prairies, has attracted local and visiting artists and photographers alike. Heirs of St. Sava, patron saint of the Serbian Orthodox faith, established their first church in America at Jackson, California in 1894. The congregation of Holy Trinity will celebrate 60 years of worship in Regina in 1976. The motto of the Canadian Serb is: "My Home is My Freedom!"

We thank Mary Swalm, General Accounting, for lending us her slide of the Holy Trinity Serbian Orthodox Parish.

Aboard a ship a magician was entertaining the guests — all except a parrot hanging nearby. Everything, including a pigeon that was made to disappear was greeted by a shout of "Faker!" from the bird. Suddenly an explosion destroyed the ship, and the parrot landed on a raft occupied by the magician. After two days of merely sitting and staring at the man, the bird finally admitted: "All right, you win! What did you do with the ship?"

Mr. W. A. Farr,
General Manager, Sears Limited,
Broad and 4th Avenue,
REGINA, Sask.

Dear Mr. Farr:

We wish to report the success of the Blood Donor Clinic held on your premises on Wednesday, January 15, 1975. Mrs. T. J. Houghton, City and Provincial Chairman for the Blood Recruitment, joins with us in our appreciation.

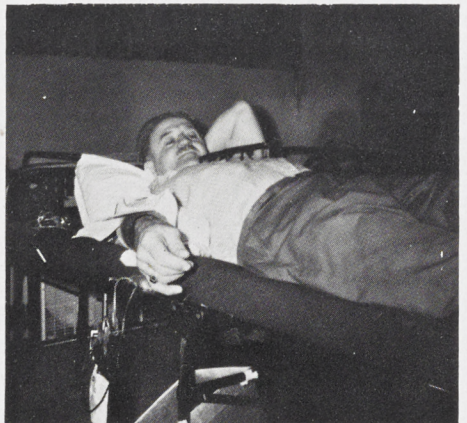

The Clinic was attended by 253 persons and 234 units of blood were realized. This was a very important Clinic coming after the Christmas and New Year holiday when the demand for blood is very heavy.

We regret that two of the donors suffered inconveniences after their blood donations. We have, however, passed for payment the cost of eyeglasses which had to be replaced as a result of fainting after the donation.

Again, our sincere thanks for your co-operation and to the members of your staff who participated in the promotion and the success of the Clinics, and to the blood donors.

Yours sincerely,
(Mrs.) Rollande Ring, R.N.
Director, Blood Recruitment for the City of Regina.

SEARS SASKATCHEWAN CURLING CHAMPIONSHIP

The 5th Annual Saskatchewan Curling Championship was held in Saskatoon, March 2, 1975.

In the "B" event, Ken Thiess (pronounced "Tice") upset the Saskatoon Controller, Big, Bad George Hunter, in an all Saskatoon final.
